The map is from the Presidential Range in the White Mountains. The cog railway of my favorite places. The cog railway to the top of Mt. Washington should be blown up.

Hometown: Hopkinton NH

My favorite music is John Denver, Cat Stevens, Ella Fitzgerald and Louis Armstrong

I like playing Frisbee

I hate telling people about myself; can't it all just wait until KENYA? I'm sure that all the best and all the worst will come out then. I think that this is enough to go on for right now. I may change my mind about a thousand things but right now, this is true stuff about me.

I want to move to Alaska when I graduate

I like being outside

I am majoring in philosophy, environmental studies and writing.

I want to be Ed Abbey when I grow up...

What else would you want to know?

I like the Muppet Show

Let's see, who am I? It's a pretty good question... I'll tell you what I've figured out so far. I'm from a small town in Maine named Hampden. I find that I'm often happiest in the car going somewhere, although I'm not sure why. Music will be playing, I'll be talking with people I love; maybe it's the anticipation of going somewhere exciting or maybe it's the fact that I can sit there and just watch the world go by.

Hmmm...

Two of my favorite movies are Harold and Maude and The Big Lebowski.

My favorite fiction author is Tom Robbins. He has a lot to teach and a lot to share. He loves life and is confused by it at the same time. I think that's how I feel the majority of the time as well.

I like lots of different music. Some things I've been listening to a lot lately are Willis Allen Ramsay, Beck, Radiohead, Ani DiFranco, Massive Attack, and Martin Sexton. The mango is my favorite fruit.

I have a big brother named Aaron who is 24-ish and one of my favorite people.

I love people...especially when they are feeling something intense and showing it in whatever way they can or know how to. Laughing, crying, singing, yelling, hitting things, etc.

I'm a sophomore and a Global Studies major.

I am a feminist.

I like to climb on stuff including trees and rocks.

I find capitalism questionable.

I'm going to Africa for a lot of reasons, including being very interested in the culture and wanting to learn more. I also want to experience an area of the Global south that continues to be affected by colonialism and presently by global trade policies and the neo-liberal economic system as a whole.

I love plants. So be prepared for me to get really excited over the different species of plants we'll encounter in Kenya.

And, this is me in Wyoming this summer. Excited and being silly is you can't tell.

KENYA SEMESTER PROFILES

NAME: HILARY HALSTEAD

COLLEGE: COLGATE UNIVERSITY

HOMETOWN: NEW YORK CITY

SPORTS, EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AT COLLEGE, ECT: I PLAYED CLUB SOCCER, SQUASH, AND LACROSSE THROUGHOUT HIGH SCHOOL AND FRESHMAN YEAR OF COLLEGE, BUT I TORE MY ACL PLAYING LACROSSE IN THE SPRING. SINCE THEN I HAVEN'T BEEN BACK TO PLAYING ANYTHING COMPETITIVELY, BUT I HOPE TO BE NEXT YEAR. MY BIGGEST COMMITMENT IS TO COLGATE'S OUTDOOR EDUCATION PROGRAM. I TRAINED FOR A WHOLE SEMESTER SOPHOMORE YEAR TO LEARN HOW TO TEACH, TO LEARN CERTAIN WILDERNESS TECHNICAL SKILLS WELL ENOUGH TO TEACH THEM, AND I ALSO TOOK WFR. NOW I TEACH COLGATE'S OUTDOOR-ORIENTED PE CLASSES, FRESHMAN ORIENTATION BACKPACKING AND/OR CANOEING TRIPS, AND OTHER RANDOM TEAM BUILDING ACTIVITIES. I ALSO TEACH THE LOCAL SECOND GRADE ABOUT ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES.

HOBBIES: MY HOBBIES MAINLY CONSIST OF OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES/SPORTS INCLUDING SKIING (TELEMARK, ALPINE, AND CROSS COUNTRY), BACKPACKING, AND A LITTLE BIT OF ROCK AND ICE CLIMBING.

ANY OTHER TRAVEL EXPERIENCE: I SPENT 6 WEEKS IN FIJI DURING THE SUMMER OF 1998 AND 5 WEEKS IN MONGOLIA DURING THE SUMMER OF 2000. I ALSO WENT TO KENYA FOR A COUPLE WEEKS WHEN I WAS 12 OR 13.

MAJOR: ENVIRONMENTAL BIOLOGY

FUTURE PLANS?? MY FUTURE PLANS ARE PRETTY MUCH UP IN THE AIR... I WISH I KNEW WHAT I WANTED TO DO. MY IDEAS (VERY TENTATIVE) INCLUDE GOING TO VET SCHOOL OR BECOMING A MARINE BIOLOGIST.

My name is Devon Hill. My family calls me Shea, as in Shea Stadium, though that's not where my mom got my name. (My middle name is LeShea, in case you are wondering how I got that nickname.) I was born in and spent most of my life in Jackson, Tennessee, but my mom recently moved to Memphis, Tennessee so I guess that's my new home even though I still say that I am from Jackson. I spend most of my year in Saint Louis at Washington University where I am a junior. My major is African/African-American Studies and Music. Outside of class I am a Big Sister with BigBrothers/BigSisters, I volunteer for Junior Achievement in a fifth grade class teaching about business in the United States, and I work at an elementary school called Delmar-Harvard and an after-school program called Kids' Place where I tutor children. After undergrad, I hope to work with TeachforAmerica for two years then go to grad school. I am not quite sure what I want to be ultimately, though teaching and social work are possibilities. My hobbies include reading, thinking, playing the piano, writing, and hanging out with my roommates. This will be my first time abroad. I had planned to vacation in Italy last year, but I canceled that trip because of my fears after the Sept 11 tragedy. I'll admit that I am a little nervous this time, too, but I won't let my fears keep me from going this time. I know this experience will be life-altering, and I might not have the opportunity to go in the future and actually experience the culture to the degree that I will in a study abroad program.

Elizabeth Nesbitt (but I always go by Betsy)

Dartmouth College, class of 2004!!

Worcester, MA

I play ultimate frisbee and am very involved in the Freshman outdoor orientation program run through the DOC. In the past I've also done a fair amount of community service, with the elderly and kids with developmental disabilities.

I love the outdoors - hiking, skiing, boating, anything!! I am also a big runner and like to get outside and evade the library.

I've travelled a fair amount with my family, but I've never been in Africa or anything remotely like it.

I'm an Environmental Studies Major with a minor in Education. I'm really interested in outdoor education and ways nature is used in the classroom.

Future Plans - who knows!! i could see myself pursuing outdoor ed, working with kids, leading trips, or somehow getting involved with schools, teaching and education.

Brendan Hayes

My name is Brendan and I'm a junior at St. Lawrence University...
I like to fish and hike in the Adirondacks near my hometown of Tupper Lake, NY.

I come from a family of five kids; I have two brothers and two sisters and one brother-in-law.

(I'm third in from the right)

I grew up in this Irish-Catholic family playing hockey, football, and baseball and watching the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. I'm the second to last of the kids in my family. I have a younger brother at Hamilton College, a brother and sister in NYC and my oldest sister and brother-in-law live in Charleston, SC.

I continue to play football for St. Lawrence's team, although we've been in a serious rebuilding phase for my past three seasons.

Academically I'm a history and biology major. The two subjects are unrelated but interest me equally. I focus on colonial/imperial history and ecology and conservation biology, both of which seem to be very relevant for the Kenya program.

My favorite...

Teams: ND, Montreal, Giants, Dodgers

Author: Kurt Vonnegut

Movies: Usual Suspects, Shawshank, Big Lebowski

Beers: Molson Canadian, Saranac B and T, Guinness
