

ROOTDRINKER

SPRING 1978

PHOTOS~

Alan Casline, pp. 8, 9, 21, 22, 26
 Doug Jones, pp. 16, 28, 44 (cover) (bottom)
 Jennifer Knapp, p. 2 (cover)
 Ron Nolland, pp. 1 (cover), 3; Peter Murphy
 p. 6.

GRAPHICS~

Arlene Farrell, p. 25, Ann Jones, pp. 34,
 40, 42, 43; Doug Jones, pp. 14, 15
 Ron Nolland, pp. 10, 11.

STAFF

Alan Casline

Valerie Ingram

Doug Jones

Keddy Outlaw

Mary Scudlark

Carolyn Swart

ON THE COVER—

We see Joe Webb of the Boyd Pond area, town of Russell, New York, boiling sap from his 300 taps. He built his sugar house with poles from his woodland; the roof is simply battened to keep the rain out. Joe, like others, had been waiting for that right combination of cold nights and warm days to bring the North Country's first sweet taste of Spring. He says, "It'll run when the snow gets off the roots of the trees."

©ROOTDRINKER (Unless otherwise noted.)
 Vol. 3, No. 9, Spring 1978
 $1.00/copy retail, all rights reserved.
 Correspondence to contributors will be forwarded. Printed by Raquette River
 Print Shop, Potsdam, New York

Last issue James Zwadlo's name was inadvertently left off his block print which appeared on the top of page 12.

A Peter Murphy Interview	3	Sid Patterson: RIVER RAT of Alex Bay
Jose Barreiro	7	The Damage Close to Us
Joel Ray	10	Pictures in an Institution
Wayne Cordwell	12	Wood Chip Energy Seminar
Doug Jones and Samuel Kaymen	14	Green Manure
ROOTDRINKER	22	A Talk with Colton's Bill Smith
Alan Casline	26	New York State's Energy Future
Ron Nolland	29	Report: Natural Farmers of the St. Lawrence Valley
Elizabeth Gibeau	41	Classified Ads
	42	Reminiscence

NO
T
H
E
R
I
V
E
R
R
A T